Billy and Sarah—two common names that immediately spell star quality without a single mention of a surname. There is only one Billy and only one Sarah.

It isn't often that two top entertainers who have made their reputations as solo performers manage to click into another perfection with each other. Somehow it has happened with Billy and Sarah—an act that is, if possible, even greater than the mere sum of their individual talents.

On this record Billy and Sarah sing some of the most popular songs in their joint repertoire. The result is a treat for any music-lover.
